Dear Judge Webster:

We are delighted that you are interested in joining us at our Annual Convention in Honolulu, April 24-27. This is the global event of the year for the newspaper business -- about 3,000 newspaper executives will attend.

Some of last year's program participants included: President Reagan; First Lady Nancy Reagan; President Carter; Senators Dole, Hart and Hatch; Representatives Fawell and Frank; Cyrus Vance; Abraham Sofaer; William French Smith; Stansfield Turner and Jean J. Kirkpatrick.

We would be honored if you would accept our invitation to keynote our Luncheon on Tuesday, April 26. Program plans call for presentations by the most senior representatives of government and commerce from Australia; Taiwan, The People's Republic of China, The Soviet Union and Japan.

I have enclosed our new brochure that will give you background on ANPA as well as a copy of the June 1987 issue of presstime, the ANPA journal, which features our 100th Anniversary Convention in New York City. In addition, I have enclosed a copy of our Program in Brief which gives an overview of the entire 1988 Convention.

We hope you can work this invitation into your schedule.

Sincerely yours,

George W. Wilson

RE: Speaking Invitation
Government Affairs Committee
American Newspaper Publishers Association
J W Marriott Hotel
Washington, D.C.
Thursday, 10 March 1988

The President of the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA), Jerry W. Friedheim, has invited you to speak to the Government Affairs Committee of the ANPA at a luncheon on Thursday, 10 March, in Washington, D.C. The ANPA wishes to support a continuing dialogue between the press and the government on issues and practices of mutual interest. You spoke to this group in 1980 when you were Director of the FBI. Last fall you were invited to speak again, but you were scheduled to be overseas.

Since you will be in the Far East on 10 March, I have attached a letter of regret for your signature.

Dear Mr. Friedheim:

I appreciate the invitation to be the guest speaker at the ANPA Government Affairs Committee luncheon in Washington March 10th. Unfortunately, I will not be able to speak to the group on that date because I am committed to be out of the city. I had looked forward to addressing the Government Affairs Committee and would like to reschedule if possible.

Best wishes for a successful luncheon.

Sincerely yours,

ANPA seeks to contribute to a continuing dialogue between the press and the government on issues and practices of mutual interest. You spoke to this group in 1980 as FBI director and you may recall the constructive atmosphere we are able to maintain at these sessions. We regret you were not able to accept our similar invitation last year and hope that this opportunity will fit your schedule more conveniently. One of your predecessors, Adm. Stansfield Turner, once invited this group to CIA headquarters for a series of briefings which was especially constructive in building mutual respect.

As you know, the American Newspaper Publishers Association is a non-profit, non-partisan trade association representing nearly 1,400 member newspapers throughout North America. Membership accounts for nearly 90 percent of U.S. daily and Sunday newspaper circulation. Many non-daily newspapers also are members.

Our Government Affairs Committee meets twice annually in Washington to consider governmental matters affecting newspapers and to advise the ANPA Board of Directors on association policy in the government relations area. Several committee members are current or past ANPA directors. The committee is representative of the newspaper business, including executives from all regions of the country and from newspapers large and small. Charles Rowe of the Fredericksburg (Va.) Free Lance-Star is chairman of the committee. Ray Shaw, president of Dow-Jones, is vice chairman. Enclosed is a committee roster, together with a list of speakers who have addressed this committee in recent years and a copy of the current issue of presstime, the journal of ANPA.

Our reception will begin at Noon in the hotel's Capitol Salon F on the ballroom level. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. We would like for you to join the committee during the reception and deliver remarks of perhaps 15 minutes following the luncheon, leaving the bulk of our time together for discussions with the committee members. We expect about 50 people, including committee members, guests and staff. We will conclude by 2 p.m. We do not make public announcement of our committee sessions, but please feel free to bring William Baker or another member of your staff with you.

We look forward to your positive reply, and to an enjoyable time together.

Sincerely,

Jerry W. Friedheim
President
